Daitoryu Aikijujitsu Ginjukai

The founder of Aikido, Morihei Ueshiba and Hapkido Choi Young Sool were both long time students of Daitoryu, as were the founders of Hakkoryu Jujutsu, Shorinji Kempo, and many other popular modern arts.

In its purist form, Daitoryu Aikijujitsu is powerful system for self defense that uses connected body mechanics and soft movements to unbalance an attacker at the moment of contact. The core of Daitoryu, called "Aiki" is a set of skills that would interest any martial artist. Aiki makes it possible to unbalance, redirect, control an attacker while using little or no muscular strength.
